

How Elements information appears in the Discovery module*:

**Note: The information below is adapted from a table created by Symplectic (company under Digital Science that owns Elements system), available on this page for registered users: <https://support.symplectic.co.uk/support/solutions/articles/6000196782-elements-data-shown-on-the-discovery-module-and-data-privacy>*

From Elements User Profile

The following information from your Elements User Profile will appear as individual text fields in Discovery. You can change the privacy settings for each of the fields listed in the right column. The fields listed in the left column, will automatically be visible in your Discovery profile if your profile is set to public.

System Controlled Privacy Settings	User Controlled Privacy Settings
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Name</li><li>• Photo (if added)</li><li>• Department</li><li>• Position</li><li>• ORCID (only if authenticated)</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Institutional email address</li><li>• Manually added email addresses</li><li>• Phone numbers</li><li>• Overview text (Bio)</li><li>• Research Interests text</li><li>• Teaching Summary text</li><li>• Institutional Appointments</li><li>• Academic Appointments</li><li>• Non-academic Appointments</li><li>• Education</li><li>• Language Competencies</li><li>• Addresses</li><li>• Web addresses and Social Media Links</li></ul>

From Scholarly & Creative Works

Objects from this category that are set to public will appear in your Discovery profile, with the following fields visible. You can change the privacy settings for objects in this category to include them in or exclude them from your Discovery profile.

- Title
- Date/s
- Journal
- Author/s (including hyperlinks to other Institutional Authors where present)
- DOI
- Full text (link to Institutional Repository)
- Favorites
- Book title (for Book Chapters)

- Published Proceeding (for Conferences)

From Grants, Professional Activities, and Teaching & Supervision Categories

Objects from these categories that are set to public will appear in your Discovery profile, with the following fields visible. You can change the privacy settings for objects in these categories to include them in or exclude them from your Discovery profile.

- Title
- Date/s
- Favorites
- Additional Information field
- URL field